

QSR Automations Companies to Success

MISSION STATEMENT

QSR's company mission is to help hospitality companies of all sizes and concepts achieve their business goals through the most comprehensive automation technologies available.

CORPORATE CULTURE

As a company that has built its reputation upon responsiveness and reliability, our focus is on designing superior products that provide a distinct business advantage. The QSR team members are a diverse group of dedicated and experienced individuals, who are passionate about our company mission. QSR recognizes this spirit, and encourages creativity and innovation.

GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT

QSR partners with the leading point-of-sale hardware and software vendors in the industry, also supporting their extensive distribution channels. Through our successful partnerships, our customers are assured that they can leverage their existing investments, and grow into the future. Today, QSR has a diverse install base of more than 10,000 locations around the world.

QSR Automations, Inc.
11003 Bluegrass Parkway
Suite 400
Louisville, Kentucky 40299
502.297.0221 (phone)
www.qsrautomations.com

For many years, hospitality companies have relied on point-of-sale and back-office systems. However, most hospitality companies have not had the tools to effectively automate all of the other critical activities – like kitchen management – that make their guests' experience one they want to repeat.

As the leading independent provider of kitchen management solutions, QSR Automations™ understands the relationship between productivity, quality, and business success – and we have created sophisticated technology to automate the toughest areas in the hospitality business, those not managed by point-of-sale or back-office systems.

SMART APPLICATIONS

With QSR's ConnectSmart™ Hospitality Automation Solution, companies can achieve their goals by aligning the staff efforts within all front-of-house and back-of-house activities. With ConnectSmart's complete kitchen management and powerful alerts, hospitality professionals can get a true picture of their operation through the availability of service timing and production data, while ensuring that menu items are always served fresh and quick.

COMPLETE AUTOMATION

Effective automation solutions are a must for hospitality operators to overcome challenges and take advantage of growth opportunities. All systems operating within an organization – including front-of-house and back-of-house – must be able to communicate and interact in order to enhance the guest experience, and provide a real return.

Lee Leet
President and CEO
QSR Automations, Inc.

In addition to robust feature sets and high reliability, technology solutions must be open and flexible in order to be truly valuable. Critical data must be available where and when it is needed across multiple applications. Technology must also offer advanced capabilities, such as graphics and multi-media functionality.

QSR works closely with our customers and partners to drive product innovations that answer real-world needs. Building on our solutions and the intelligence that we have gathered over the years from working with so many industry leaders, QSR will continue to enhance our kitchen solution and expand our product line to include new solutions, such as our powerful alerts application.

QSR is dedicated to ensuring that hospitality companies of all sizes and concepts can completely automate all areas of their businesses to achieve maximum efficiency, customer satisfaction, and profit. The QSR solution intelligently connects businesses around the world with hospitality success.

